

Fractionous

Insatiable

Hegemony

Fortuitous

Marginal

Extol

Impinge

Meticulous

Eminent

Impetus

(adj) Impossible to satisfy; always wanting more. Synonymunquenchable, voracious, ravenous Antonymatisfied, content, sated SentenceHer insatiable curiosity led her to read every book on the shelf. RootLatin in-, not + satis, enough.	(adj) Irritable, quarrelsome, or difficult to control. Synonymtesty, irritable, unruly Antonymagreeable, calm, cooperative SentenceThe fractious committee argued for an hour before agreeing on a plan. RootFrom fraction; shaped like faction/factious.
(adj) Happening by chance, often in a lucky way. Synonymaccidental, chance, serendipitous Antonymintentional, planned, deliberate SentenceA fortuitous meeting at the airport led to a new job offer. RootLatin fortuitus, happening by chance.	(n) Leadership or dominance, especially by one group over others. Synonymdominance, supremacy, leadership Antonymsubordination, weakness, inferiority SentenceThe empire maintained hegemony through trade, alliances, and military force. RootGreek hegemon, leader.
(v) To praise enthusiastically. Synonympraise, laud, acclaim Antonymcriticize, condemn, disparage SentenceThe teacher extolled the student for her careful research. RootLatin ex-, upward + tollere, raise.	(adj) Minor, slight, or at the edge of importance. Synonymslight, minimal, peripheral Antonymcentral, major, significant SentenceThe new policy produced only marginal improvements in attendance. RootLatin margo, edge or border.
(adj) Extremely careful and precise. Synonymcareful, exacting, precise Antonymcareless, sloppy, negligent SentenceHe kept meticulous notes during the experiment. RootLatin metus, fear; originally fearful, later careful.	(v) To affect, limit, or encroach upon something. Synonymencroach, intrude, affect Antonymavoid, withdraw, disengage SentenceThe loud music began to impinge on our ability to concentrate. RootLatin in-, against + pangere, fasten or drive in.
(n) A driving force that causes action or progress. Synonymmomentum, stimulus, incentive Antonymhindrance, obstacle, deterrent SentenceThe grant gave new impetus to the research project. RootLatin impetere, rush upon or attack.	(adj) Famous, respected, or high in rank. Synonymdistinguished, prominent, renowned Antonymobscure, unknown, ordinary SentenceAn eminent historian gave the opening lecture. RootLatin e-, out + minere, project.

Fabricate

Evanescent

Impervious

Enervate

Frenetic

Insipid

Mar

Expound

Engender

Elusive

(adj) Quickly fading or disappearing. Synonymfleeting, transient, ephemeral Antonymenduring, lasting, permanent SentenceThe evanescent glow of sunset vanished behind the hills. RootLatin e-, out + vanescere, vanish.	(v) To invent falsely or construct something. Synonyminvent, forge, concoct Antonymverify, authenticate, reveal SentenceThe witness was accused of fabricating part of the story. RootLatin fabrica, workshop or craft.
(v) To weaken or drain of energy. Synonymweaken, sap, debilitate Antonymenergize, strengthen, invigorate SentenceThe long heat wave enervated the whole team. RootLatin e-, out + nervus, sinew or strength.	(adj) Not allowing passage; not affected by something. Synonymimpermeable, resistant, unaffected Antonymporous, receptive, susceptible SentenceThe coat was impervious to rain and wind. RootLatin in-, not + pervius, passable.
(adj) Lacking flavor, interest, or force. Synonymbland, dull, vapid Antonymflavorful, lively, exciting SentenceThe soup tasted insipid until she added herbs. RootLatin in-, not + sapidus, tasty.	(adj) Fast, frantic, and full of nervous energy. Synonymfrantic, feverish, frenzied Antonymcalm, leisurely, composed SentenceThe office became frenetic before the product launch. RootGreek phren, mind.
(v) To explain in detail. Synonymexplain, elaborate, clarify Antonymobscure, confuse, conceal SentenceThe professor expounded the theory with clear examples. RootLatin ex-, out + ponere, put or place.	(v) To spoil, damage, or blemish. Synonymspoil, blemish, damage Antonymenhance, repair, beautify SentenceOne careless scratch can mar the polished surface. RootOld English merran, hinder or spoil.
(adj) Difficult to find, catch, or understand. Synonymevasive, slippery, fleeting Antonymobvious, accessible, clear SentenceThe answer remained elusive despite hours of study. RootLatin eludere, escape or play away.	(v) To cause, produce, or give rise to. Synonymcause, generate, provoke Antonymprevent, suppress, stifle SentenceThe leader's speech engendered hope among the volunteers. RootLatin generare, beget or produce.

Magnanimous

Indignant

Immure

Forlorn

Imperative

Innate

Mercurial

Epitome

Edict

Mitigate

(adj) Angry because something seems unfair or wrong. Synonym outraged, resentful, offended Antonym pleased, accepting, indifferent Sentence He was indignant when he learned of the false accusation. Root Latin indignari, deem unworthy.	(adj) Generous and forgiving, especially toward a rival. Synonym generous, noble, forgiving Antonym petty, mean, vindictive Sentence She was magnanimous in victory and praised her opponent. Root Latin magnus, great + animus, spirit.
(adj) Sad, abandoned, or hopeless. Synonym desolate, hopeless, lonely Antonym hopeful, cheerful, supported Sentence The forlorn house stood empty at the end of the road. Root Old English forloren, lost.	(v) To enclose, imprison, or shut away. Synonym confine, imprison, entomb Antonym free, release, liberate Sentence The old tale says the prisoner was immured in a stone tower. Root Latin in-, in + murus, wall.
(adj) Inborn or existing naturally. Synonym inborn, inherent, natural Antonym acquired, learned, external Sentence She has an innate sense of rhythm. Root Latin in-, in + natus, born.	(adj) Urgent, essential, or absolutely necessary. Synonym essential, urgent, mandatory Antonym optional, unimportant, discretionary Sentence It is imperative that the team check the data before publishing. Root Latin imperare, command.
(n) A perfect example of a quality or type. Synonym embodiment, exemplar, model Antonym opposite, antithesis, exception Sentence The quiet library was the epitome of calm. Root Greek epitome, abridgment or summary.	(adj) Changing quickly and unpredictably, especially in mood. Synonym changeable, volatile, fickle Antonym steady, predictable, constant Sentence His mercurial temper made negotiations difficult. Root From Mercury, the changeable Roman messenger god.
(v) To make something less severe or painful. Synonym alleviate, lessen, soften Antonym worsen, intensify, aggravate Sentence Planting trees can mitigate summer heat in the city. Root Latin mitis, mild.	(n) An official order or proclamation. Synonym decree, mandate, proclamation Antonym request, suggestion, permission Sentence The king issued an edict banning trade at night. Root Latin edicere, proclaim.

Integral

Inane

Surfeit

Sanguine

Veracity

Bequeath

Concede

Abhor

Appease

Disaffected

(adj) Silly, empty, or lacking sense. Synonymsilly, foolish, absurd Antonymsensible, wise, meaningful SentenceThe meeting drifted into inane jokes and distractions. RootLatin inanis, empty.	(adj) Necessary to make a whole complete. Synonymsessential, fundamental, necessary Antonymincidental, optional, peripheral SentenceTrust is integral to a strong partnership. RootLatin integer, whole or untouched.
(adj) Optimistic and confident. Synonymoptimistic, hopeful, confident Antonymspessimistic, gloomy, doubtful SentenceShe remained sanguine even after the first plan failed. RootLatin sanguis, blood.	(n) An excessive amount or overabundance. Synonymsexcess, glut, overabundance Antonymlack, shortage, scarcity SentenceAfter the holidays, there was a surfeit of desserts in the kitchen. RootLatin superfacere, overdo.
(v) To leave or pass down, especially by will. Synonymleave, grant, hand down Antonymwithhold, take, reclaim SentenceThe artist bequeathed her paintings to the museum. RootOld English becwethan, declare or say.	(n) Truthfulness or accuracy. Synonymtruthfulness, accuracy, honesty Antonymfalsehood, dishonesty, deceit SentenceThe journalist checked the veracity of every claim. RootLatin verus, true.
(v) To hate intensely. Synonymdetest, loathe, despise Antonymadmire, love, cherish SentenceShe abhorred cruelty in any form. RootLatin ab-, away + horrere, shudder.	(v) To admit, grant, or yield reluctantly. Synonymadmit, yield, grant Antonymdeny, resist, contest SentenceHe had to concede that the evidence was convincing. RootLatin con-, together + cedere, yield or go.
(adj) Dissatisfied and no longer loyal. Synonymalienated, disgruntled, discontented Antonymloyal, contented, satisfied SentenceDisaffected voters demanded a change in leadership. RootLatin dis-, apart + affectus, disposed.	(v) To calm someone by satisfying demands or concerns. Synonymplacate, pacify, mollify Antonymprovoke, aggravate, inflame SentenceThe manager tried to appease the angry customers with refunds. RootOld French apaisier, bring to peace.

Tortuous

Strident

Sporadic

Assail

Brusque

Deft

Banal

Eccentric

Vicissitude

Tentative

(adj) Loud, harsh, and forceful. Synonymharsh, shrill, grating Antonymsoft, gentle, soothing SentenceA strident alarm sounded throughout the building. RootLatin stridere, creak or make a harsh sound.	(adj) Twisting, winding, or overly complicated. Synonymwinding, convoluted, circuitous Antonymstraight, direct, simple SentenceThe hikers followed a tortuous path through the canyon. RootLatin tortus, twisted.
(v) To attack physically or verbally. Synonymattack, assault, bombard Antonymdefend, protect, praise SentenceCritics assailed the proposal as too expensive. RootLatin assalire, leap upon.	(adj) Occurring irregularly or only now and then. Synonymintermittent, occasional, scattered Antonymconstant, regular, continuous SentenceSporadic rain delayed the match several times. RootGreek sporadikos, scattered.
(adj) Skillful and quick in movement or thought. Synonymskillful, nimble, adept Antonymclumsy, inept, awkward SentenceWith a deft turn of the wrist, she repaired the clasp. RootOld English gedaf, fit or skillful.	(adj) Abrupt or blunt in manner. Synonymabrupt, curt, blunt Antonymcourteous, tactful, gracious SentenceHis brusque reply made the conversation feel tense. RootItalian brusco, sharp or rough.
(adj) Unconventional or oddly different. Synonymunconventional, quirky, peculiar Antonymconventional, ordinary, normal SentenceThe inventor had an eccentric habit of sketching ideas on napkins. RootGreek ek-, out + kentron, center.	(adj) So ordinary that it is boring or unoriginal. Synonymtrite, hackneyed, commonplace Antonymoriginal, fresh, novel SentenceThe speech was filled with banal slogans. RootOld French ban, public proclamation; common use.
(adj) Not final, certain, or fully confident. Synonymprovisional, hesitant, uncertain Antonymdefinite, certain, final SentenceWe made a tentative plan to meet after lunch. RootLatin tentare, try or test.	(n) A change in circumstances, often difficult or unwelcome. Synonymfluctuation, change, variation Antonymstability, constancy, sameness SentenceThe family endured the vicissitudes of war and migration. RootLatin vicis, change or turn.

Taciturn

Acumen

Antecedent

Austere

Capacious

Ephemeral

Spurious

Tumultuous

Tractable

Auspicious

(n) Sharp judgment or practical insight. Synonym insight, shrewdness, discernment Antonym ignorance, stupidity, naivete Sentence Her financial acumen helped the company survive. Root Latin acuere, sharpen.	(adj) Habitually quiet or reserved. Synonym reserved, silent, reticent Antonym talkative, chatty, loquacious Sentence The taciturn guard answered with only a nod. Root Latin tacitus, silent.
(adj) Plain, strict, or severe in style or manner. Synonym stern, severe, plain Antonym lavish, ornate, indulgent Sentence The room was austere, with only a bed and a desk. Root Greek austeros, harsh or severe.	(n) A thing or event that came before another. Synonym precursor, predecessor, forerunner Antonym consequence, result, successor Sentence The historian traced the antecedent of the modern law. Root Latin ante, before + cedere, go.
(adj) Lasting for a very short time. Synonym fleeting, transitory, brief Antonym permanent, lasting, enduring Sentence The artist captured the ephemeral beauty of morning fog. Root Greek epi, for + hemera, day.	(adj) Able to hold a lot; roomy. Synonym roomy, spacious, ample Antonym cramped, small, confined Sentence The capacious suitcase fit all of her clothes. Root Latin capax, able to hold.
(adj) Noisy, disorderly, or turbulent. Synonym turbulent, chaotic, stormy Antonym calm, orderly, peaceful Sentence The crowd gave a tumultuous welcome after the final goal. Root Latin tumultus, commotion.	(adj) False, fake, or not genuine. Synonym false, bogus, counterfeit Antonym genuine, authentic, valid Sentence The website spread spurious claims about the medicine. Root Latin spurius, illegitimate or false.
(adj) Favorable and suggesting future success. Synonym favorable, promising, propitious Antonym ominous, unfavorable, inauspicious Sentence Clear skies were an auspicious sign for the outdoor ceremony. Root Latin avis, bird + specere, look; omen reading.	(adj) Easy to manage, control, or deal with. Synonym manageable, compliant, docile Antonym stubborn, unruly, intractable Sentence The problem became tractable after we divided it into steps. Root Latin tractare, handle.

Aberration

Abate

Congenial

Fatuous

Temerity

Scrupulous

Vindicate

Amiable

Diffident

Deleterious

(v) To become less intense or severe. Synonymlessen, subside, diminish Antonymintensify, increase, escalate SentenceThe storm began to abate after midnight. RootOld French abatre, beat down.	(n) A departure from what is normal or expected. Synonymanomaly, deviation, oddity Antonymnorm, standard, regularity SentenceThe sudden drop in sales was an aberration, not a trend. RootLatin aberrare, wander away.
(adj) Foolish, silly, or lacking sense. Synonymfoolish, silly, vacuous Antonymwise, sensible, thoughtful SentenceThe committee rejected the fatuous suggestion immediately. RootLatin fatuus, foolish.	(adj) Pleasant, friendly, or well suited. Synonympleasant, agreeable, compatible Antonymunpleasant, disagreeable, incompatible SentenceThe cafe provided a congenial place to study. RootLatin con-, with + genius, nature or spirit.
(adj) Careful, thorough, and guided by principle. Synonymconscientious, meticulous, principled Antonymcareless, dishonest, unscrupulous SentenceThe accountant was scrupulous about every receipt. RootLatin scrupulus, small sharp stone; uneasy care.	(n) Reckless boldness or nerve. Synonymaudacity, rashness, nerve Antonymcaution, humility, prudence SentenceHe had the temerity to interrupt the judge. RootLatin temere, rashly.
(adj) Friendly and pleasant. Synonymfriendly, genial, affable Antonymhostile, unfriendly, disagreeable SentenceOur amiable neighbor welcomed everyone to the block party. RootLatin amare, love.	(v) To clear from blame or prove right. Synonymjustify, exonerate, defend Antonymcondemn, blame, incriminate SentenceThe new evidence helped vindicate the accused scientist. RootLatin vindicare, claim or avenge.
(adj) Harmful or damaging. Synonymharmful, damaging, injurious Antonymbeneficial, helpful, wholesome SentenceThe chemical had a deleterious effect on the river. RootGreek deleterios, harmful.	(adj) Shy or lacking self-confidence. Synonymshy, timid, hesitant Antonymconfident, bold, assertive SentenceThe diffident speaker grew calmer after the first question. RootLatin dis-, away + fidere, trust.

Despondent

Ignominious

Transient

Superfluous

Spurn

Zealous

Corroborate

Confluence

Accost

Incredulous

(adj) Shameful or humiliating. Synonymshameful, disgraceful, humiliating Antonymhonorable, glorious, respectable SentenceThe team suffered an ignominious defeat in the final match. RootLatin in-, not + nomen, name; bad name.	(adj) Very discouraged or without hope. Synonymdejected, hopeless, gloomy Antonymhopeful, cheerful, encouraged SentenceShe felt despondent after several failed interviews. RootLatin de-, down + spondere, promise.
(adj) More than needed; unnecessary. Synonymunnecessary, redundant, excessive Antonymnecessary, essential, required SentenceThe editor removed several superfluous paragraphs. RootLatin super-, over + fluere, flow.	(adj) Lasting only a short time. Synonymbrief, temporary, fleeting Antonympermanent, enduring, lasting SentenceThe pain was transient and faded within minutes. RootLatin transire, go across.
(adj) Passionate and enthusiastic about a cause. Synonymardent, fervent, enthusiastic Antonymapathetic, indifferent, lukewarm SentenceThe zealous volunteers arrived before sunrise. RootGreek zelos, ardor or zeal.	(v) To reject with disdain. Synonymreject, rebuff, scorn Antonymaccept, welcome, embrace SentenceShe spurned the offer because it ignored her main concern. RootOld English spurnan, kick.
(n) A coming or flowing together; a meeting point. Synonymconvergence, junction, meeting Antonymdivergence, separation, split SentenceThe city grew at the confluence of two rivers. RootLatin con-, together + fluere, flow.	(v) To confirm or support with evidence. Synonymconfirm, verify, substantiate Antonymrefute, contradict, disprove SentenceTwo witnesses corroborated the driver's account. RootLatin com-, together + robur, strength.
(adj) Unwilling or unable to believe something. Synonymskeptical, doubtful, disbelieving Antonymcredulous, trusting, convinced SentenceShe gave him an incredulous look after the excuse. RootLatin in-, not + credere, believe.	(v) To approach and address boldly or aggressively. Synonymapproach, confront, address Antonymavoid, ignore, evade SentenceA reporter accosted the mayor outside city hall. RootLatin ad-, to + costa, side.

Wrought

Torpor

Tenable

Trepidation

Capitulate

Candid

Arid

Lucid

Bombard

Commensurate

(n) A state of inactivity, dullness, or lethargy. Synonym lethargy, sluggishness, apathy Antonym vigor, energy, activity Sentence The heat left the village in a state of torpor. Root Latin torpere, be numb or sluggish.	(adj) Made, shaped, or formed with effort. Synonym fashioned, shaped, formed Antonym unmade, raw, unformed Sentence The gate was wrought from black iron. Root Old English wyrcan, work.
(n) Fear or nervous anticipation. Synonym anxiety, apprehension, fear Antonym confidence, calm, assurance Sentence He opened the exam results with trepidation. Root Latin trepidare, tremble.	(adj) Able to be defended as reasonable or valid. Synonym defensible, plausible, supportable Antonym untenable, indefensible, implausible Sentence Her argument was tenable because it rested on solid data. Root Latin tenere, hold.
(adj) Truthful, frank, and direct. Synonym frank, honest, open Antonym guarded, dishonest, evasive Sentence The coach gave a candid assessment of the team's weaknesses. Root Latin candidus, white or bright.	(v) To surrender or give in. Synonym surrender, yield, submit Antonym resist, withstand, defy Sentence After weeks of pressure, the company chose to capitulate. Root Latin capitulum, little head or chapter.
(adj) Clear, coherent, and easy to understand. Synonym clear, coherent, intelligible Antonym confused, obscure, muddled Sentence Her lucid explanation made the difficult chapter manageable. Root Latin lucidus, bright or clear.	(adj) Very dry; lacking life or interest. Synonym dry, barren, parched Antonym moist, fertile, lush Sentence Few plants can survive in the arid desert basin. Root Latin aridus, dry.
(adj) Corresponding in size, amount, or degree. Synonym proportional, equivalent, corresponding Antonym disproportionate, unequal, mismatched Sentence The bonus should be commensurate with the extra work. Root Latin com-, together + mensura, measure.	(v) To attack or overwhelm with many things at once. Synonym attack, pelt, overwhelm Antonym protect, shield, spare Sentence Reporters bombarded the actor with questions. Root Medieval Latin bombardā, cannon.

Debase

Ebullient

Bashful

Balk

Belligerent

Efface

Circuitous

Dastardly

Discord

Abscond

(adj) Cheerful, energetic, and full of enthusiasm. Synonymexuberant, buoyant, enthusiastic Antonymgloomy, subdued, depressed SentenceThe ebullient host made every guest feel welcome. RootLatin e-, out + bullire, boil.	(v) To lower in value, quality, or dignity. Synonymdegrade, cheapen, corrupt Antonymelevate, improve, ennoble SentenceThe forged coins debased the currency. Rootde-, down + base, lower part.
(v) To refuse or hesitate to proceed. Synonymresist, refuse, hesitate Antonymcomply, proceed, accept SentenceInvestors may balk at the high price. RootOld English balca, ridge or barrier.	(adj) Shy and easily embarrassed. Synonymshy, timid, sheepish Antonymconfident, bold, outgoing SentenceThe bashful child hid behind his father. RootAbash + -ful; from Old French esbahir, astonish.
(v) To erase, remove, or make less noticeable. Synonymerase, obliterate, wipe out Antonympreserve, restore, highlight SentenceRain began to efface the chalk marks on the sidewalk. RootFrench effacer; ex-, out + face, face.	(adj) Hostile, aggressive, or ready to fight. Synonymhostile, aggressive, combative Antonympeaceful, friendly, conciliatory SentenceThe belligerent customer shouted at the clerk. RootLatin bellum, war + gerere, wage.
(adj) Wicked and cowardly. Synonymcowardly, villainous, treacherous Antonymbrave, noble, honorable SentenceThe villain made a dastardly plan to blame an innocent person. RootMiddle English dastard, coward.	(adj) Indirect, roundabout, or winding. Synonymindirect, roundabout, winding Antonymdirect, straight, straightforward SentenceWe took a circuitous route to avoid the traffic. RootLatin circuitus, going around.
(v) To leave secretly or suddenly, often to avoid capture. Synonymflee, escape, decamp Antonymremain, stay, surrender SentenceThe cashier tried to abscond with the stolen money. RootLatin abs-, away + condere, hide.	(n) Disagreement or lack of harmony. Synonymconflict, disagreement, strife Antonymharmony, agreement, concord SentenceThe budget cuts caused discord among the departments. RootLatin dis-, apart + cor, heart.

Arbitrary

Apathetic

Capricious

Esoteric

Alacrity

Assiduous

Berate

Circumspect

Dearth

Dour

(adj) Showing little interest, concern, or emotion. Synonymindifferent, uninterested, listless Antonyminterested, passionate, concerned SentenceThe apathetic audience barely reacted to the announcement. RootGreek a-, without + pathos, feeling.	(adj) Based on whim rather than reason or rule. Synonymrandom, capricious, whimsical Antonymreasoned, systematic, justified SentenceThe students complained that the deadline felt arbitrary. RootLatin arbiter, judge.
(adj) Understood by only a small, specialized group. Synonymobscure, abstruse, arcane Antonymcommon, accessible, familiar SentenceThe article used esoteric terms from quantum theory. RootGreek esoterikos, inner.	(adj) Changing suddenly and unpredictably. Synonymfickle, whimsical, erratic Antonymsteady, consistent, predictable SentenceThe capricious weather forced us to change plans twice. RootItalian capriccio, whim.
(adj) Diligent, careful, and persistent. Synonymdiligent, industrious, persistent Antonymlazy, careless, negligent SentenceHis assiduous practice improved his piano playing quickly. RootLatin assiduus, sitting close; constant.	(n) Cheerful readiness or eagerness. Synonymeagerness, promptness, readiness Antonymreluctance, hesitation, apathy SentenceShe accepted the challenge with alacrity. RootLatin alacer, lively or eager.
(adj) Careful and cautious before acting. Synonymcautious, prudent, wary Antonymreckless, careless, rash SentenceA circumspect investor studies the risks first. RootLatin circum, around + specere, look.	(v) To scold or criticize angrily. Synonymscold, rebuke, reprimand Antonympraise, commend, compliment SentenceThe coach did not berate the players after the loss. Rootbe- + rate, scold or chide.
(adj) Stern, gloomy, or severe. Synonymstern, gloomy, sullen Antonymcheerful, pleasant, genial SentenceThe dour expression on his face softened when he smiled. RootLatin durus, hard; also Scots dour, stern.	(n) A scarcity or lack of something. Synonymscarcity, shortage, paucity Antonymabundance, surplus, plenty SentenceThe rural clinic faced a dearth of nurses. RootOld English deore, dear or scarce.

Credulity

Forestall

Deluge

Arraign

Strenuous

Affluent

Commemorate

Infernal

Olfactory

Adversity

(v) To prevent by acting ahead of time. Synonymprevent, thwart, preempt Antonymallow, permit, encourage SentenceThe company recalled the product to forestall complaints. RootOld English fore, before + steall, place.	(n) A tendency to believe things too readily. Synonymgullibility, naivete, trustfulness Antonymskepticism, distrust, suspicion SentenceThe scammer took advantage of the victim's credulity. RootLatin credere, believe.
(v) To formally accuse or call someone to answer in court. Synonymcharge, indict, accuse Antonymacquit, absolve, exonerate SentenceThe suspect was arraigned the morning after the arrest. RootOld French araisnier, call to account.	(n) A great flood or overwhelming rush of something. Synonymflood, torrent, overflow Antonymtrickle, drought, scarcity SentenceA deluge of emails arrived after the announcement. RootLatin diluvium, flood; from diluere, wash away.
(adj) Wealthy or having plenty of resources. Synonymwealthy, prosperous, rich Antonympoor, needy, impoverished SentenceThe affluent suburb had large homes and private gardens. RootLatin ad-, to + fluere, flow.	(adj) vigorous; marked by energy and stamina Synonymdifficult, arduous, tough Antonymeffortless, easy, simple SentenceThe strenuous hike left everyone exhausted but proud. RootLatin strenuus, active or brisk.
(adj) Hellish, extremely annoying, or very unpleasant. Synonymhellish, awful, fiendish Antonymheavenly, pleasant, delightful SentenceThe infernal noise from the drill continued all morning. RootLatin infernus, lower or hellish.	(v) To honor or remember an important person or event. Synonymhonor, memorialize, celebrate Antonymforget, ignore, neglect SentenceThe town held a ceremony to commemorate the victory. RootLatin com-, together + memor, mindful.
(n) Serious difficulty or misfortune. Synonymhardship, misfortune, trouble Antonymprosperity, comfort, ease SentenceShe learned patience through years of adversity. RootLatin adversus, turned against.	(adj) Related to the sense of smell. Synonymscent-related, smelling, aromatic Antonymodorless, visual, tasteless SentenceThe chef relied on olfactory clues to judge the stew. RootLatin olfacere, smell.

Notorious

Adept

Irk

Disposition

Cache

Refraction

Wrangle

Impeccable

Infallible

Impel

(adj) Very skilled or proficient. Synonym skilled, proficient, expert Antonym inept, clumsy, unskilled Sentence He became adept at solving problems under pressure. Root Latin adeptus, attained.	(adj) Famous for something bad. Synonym infamous, disreputable, scandalous Antonym respected, reputable, honorable Sentence The road is notorious for accidents during winter storms. Root Latin notus, known.
(n) A person's usual mood or tendency. Synonym temperament, nature, tendency Antonym hostility, opposition, reluctance Sentence His cheerful disposition made the long trip easier. Root Latin dis-, apart + ponere, place.	(v) To annoy or irritate. Synonym annoy, irritate, vex Antonym please, soothe, delight Sentence It began to irk her when people arrived late every week. Root Middle English irken, weary or annoy.
(n) The bending of light or waves as they pass through a material. Synonym bending, deflection, deviation Antonym straightening, alignment, directness Sentence The prism showed refraction by splitting the light. Root Latin refringere, break back.	(n) A hidden store of valuable things. Synonym store, reserve, stockpile Antonym shortage, lack, deficit Sentence The hikers found a cache of emergency supplies. Root French cacher, hide.
(adj) Flawless or without mistakes. Synonym flawless, faultless, perfect Antonym flawed, imperfect, defective Sentence Her report was organized with impeccable care. Root Latin in-, not + peccare, sin.	(v) To argue noisily or for a long time. Synonym argue, quarrel, dispute Antonym agree, reconcile, settle Sentence The neighbors wrangled over the parking space. Root Low German wrangeln, wrestle or argue.
(v) To drive, urge, or force someone to act. Synonym drive, urge, compel Antonym restrain, deter, discourage Sentence Concern for his family impelled him to work harder. Root Latin in-, toward + pellere, drive.	(adj) Incapable of making mistakes or being wrong. Synonym unerring, certain, flawless Antonym fallible, mistaken, unreliable Sentence No prediction model is truly infallible. Root Latin in-, not + fallere, deceive or fail.

Indelible

Hubris

Valor

Piety

Remit

Unkempt

Periodical

Castigate

Imminent

Exemplify

(n) Excessive pride or self-confidence. Synonym arrogance, pride, conceit Antonym humility, modesty, meekness Sentence The founder's hubris made him ignore useful warnings. Root Greek hybris, pride or outrage.	(adj) Impossible to remove, forget, or erase. Synonym permanent, lasting, unforgettable Antonym temporary, erasable, forgettable Sentence The trip left an indelible memory in her mind. Root Latin in-, not + delere, erase.
(n) Religious devotion or dutiful respect. Synonym devotion, reverence, faithfulness Antonym impiety, irreverence, disrespect Sentence His piety was visible in daily acts of service. Root Latin pietas, dutifulness.	(n) Great courage, especially in danger. Synonym courage, bravery, heroism Antonym cowardice, fear, timidity Sentence The medal honored her valor during the rescue. Root Latin valor, worth or courage.
(adj) Messy, untidy, or not cared for. Synonym messy, disheveled, untidy Antonym neat, tidy, groomed Sentence The abandoned garden looked unkempt after months of rain. Root un- + kempt; Old English cemban, comb.	(v) To send payment, cancel a debt, or refer a matter. Synonym send, pay, refer Antonym retain, withhold, keep Sentence Please remit the balance by the end of the month. Root Latin re-, back + mittere, send.
(v) To criticize or punish severely. Synonym rebuke, scold, chastise Antonym praise, commend, approve Sentence The editor castigated the article for its errors. Root Latin castigare, correct or punish.	(n) A magazine or journal published at regular intervals. Synonym journal, magazine, publication Antonym book, monograph, one-off Sentence The library keeps each scientific periodical on one shelf. Root Greek periodos, going around; cycle.
(v) To serve as a clear example of something. Synonym illustrate, embody, represent Antonym contradict, obscure, misrepresent Sentence Her patience exemplifies strong leadership. Root Latin exemplum, example + facere, make.	(adj) About to happen very soon. Synonym impending, approaching, near Antonym distant, unlikely, remote Sentence Dark clouds warned that a storm was imminent. Root Latin imminere, overhang or threaten.

Nebulous

Precarious

Reprisal

Stipulate

Voluminous

Pragmatic

Stagnate

Ascertain

Dissolution

Dignitary

(adj) Dangerously unstable or uncertain. Synonym unstable, risky, insecure Antonym secure, stable, safe Sentence The ladder stood in a precarious position. Root Latin precarius, obtained by prayer.	(adj) Vague, unclear, or cloudy. Synonym vague, hazy, indistinct Antonym clear, definite, precise Sentence The proposal was too nebulous to approve. Root Latin nebula, mist or cloud.
(v) To demand or specify as a condition. Synonym specify, require, demand Antonym waive, ignore, permit Sentence The contract stipulates payment within ten days. Root Latin stipulari, demand a promise.	(n) An act of retaliation for an injury or offense. Synonym retaliation, revenge, counterattack Antonym forgiveness, pardon, mercy Sentence The village feared reprisals after the protest. Root Old French repris, taken back.
(adj) Practical and focused on results. Synonym practical, realistic, sensible Antonym idealistic, impractical, unrealistic Sentence The team chose a pragmatic solution that worked quickly. Root Greek pragma, deed or matter.	(adj) Very large, full, or containing much. Synonym large, extensive, ample Antonym small, brief, scant Sentence The lawyer carried voluminous files into court. Root Latin volumen, roll or volume.
(v) To find out or determine with certainty. Synonym determine, verify, discover Antonym guess, overlook, ignore Sentence The inspector tried to ascertain the cause of the leak. Root Old French accertener, make certain.	(v) To stop developing, moving, or progressing. Synonym stall, languish, idle Antonym advance, develop, progress Sentence Without new investment, the project began to stagnate. Root Latin stagnum, standing water.
(n) A person with high rank or important office. Synonym official, notable, leader Antonym commoner, subordinate, nobody Sentence Several foreign dignitaries attended the ceremony. Root Latin dignitas, worthiness.	(n) The ending, breaking apart, or disintegration of something. Synonym breakup, termination, disintegration Antonym formation, union, creation Sentence The treaty led to the dissolution of the alliance. Root Latin dissolvere, loosen apart.

Quixotic

Relegate

Penchant

Prowess

Reticent

Requisite

Preposterous

Coup

Daunting

Dispel

(v) To assign to a lower or less important position. Synonym downgrade, demote, consign Antonym promote, elevate, advance Sentence The report relegated the issue to a footnote. Root Latin re-, back + legare, send.	(adj) Idealistic in an impractical or unrealistic way. Synonym idealistic, romantic, impractical Antonym practical, realistic, sensible Sentence His quixotic plan aimed to rebuild the town in a week. Root From Don Quixote, idealistic dreamer.
(n) Exceptional skill or ability. Synonym skill, mastery, expertise Antonym weakness, ineptitude, inability Sentence The athlete's prowess impressed even her rivals. Root Old French proece, valor or bravery.	(n) A strong liking or tendency. Synonym liking, inclination, preference Antonym aversion, dislike, distaste Sentence She has a penchant for solving difficult puzzles. Root French penchant, inclination.
(adj) Necessary for a particular purpose. Synonym necessary, required, essential Antonym optional, unnecessary, extra Sentence The license is requisite for operating the equipment. Root Latin requirere, seek or require.	(adj) Reserved or unwilling to speak freely. Synonym reserved, restrained, silent Antonym talkative, open, forthcoming Sentence He was reticent about his plans for the company. Root Latin reticere, keep silent.
(n) A sudden, successful move or seizure of power. Synonym triumph, takeover, stroke Antonym failure, defeat, loss Sentence Winning the contract was a major coup for the small firm. Root French coup, blow or stroke.	(adj) Absurd or contrary to reason. Synonym absurd, ridiculous, outrageous Antonym reasonable, plausible, sensible Sentence The claim was so preposterous that no one believed it. Root Latin prae, before + posterus, after.
(v) To drive away or make disappear. Synonym scatter, eliminate, banish Antonym gather, create, intensify Sentence The clear evidence dispelled the rumor. Root Latin dis-, apart + pellere, drive.	(adj) Intimidating or seeming difficult to deal with. Synonym intimidating, formidable, discouraging Antonym easy, inviting, encouraging Sentence The mountain looked daunting from the base camp. Root Middle English daunten, tame or subdue.

Precipitous

Ostensible

Perfunctory

Prevail

Recalcitrant

Rebuff

Onslaught

Banter

Foment

Perpetual

(adj) Stated or appearing to be true, but possibly not. Synonym apparent, supposed, outward Antonym actual, real, genuine Sentence His ostensible reason for leaving was illness. Root Latin ostendere, show.	(adj) Very steep or suddenly happening. Synonym steep, abrupt, sheer Antonym gradual, gentle, level Sentence The trail ended at a precipitous cliff. Root Latin praeceps, headlong or steep.
(v) To succeed, win, or prove more powerful. Synonym triumph, succeed, win Antonym fail, lose, yield Sentence Justice can prevail when evidence is clear. Root Latin praevalere, be stronger.	(adj) Done with little care or interest. Synonym routine, careless, mechanical Antonym careful, thorough, attentive Sentence She gave a perfunctory nod and returned to work. Root Latin perfungi, get through or perform.
(v) To reject someone or something bluntly. Synonym reject, snub, repel Antonym accept, welcome, embrace Sentence The committee rebuffed the request for more funding. Root Italian ribuffare, repel or rebuke.	(adj) Stubbornly resistant to authority or control. Synonym defiant, stubborn, unruly Antonym obedient, compliant, docile Sentence The recalcitrant student refused to follow instructions. Root Latin re-, back + calcitrare, kick.
(n) Playful, teasing conversation. Synonym teasing, joking, repartee Antonym seriousness, silence, hostility Sentence Their friendly banter made the long shift more pleasant. Root Origin obscure; 17th-century English playful talk.	(n) A fierce attack or overwhelming rush. Synonym attack, assault, barrage Antonym retreat, defense, withdrawal Sentence The team endured an onslaught of criticism online. Root English on + slaughter, attack or strike.
(adj) Continuing forever or happening repeatedly. Synonym endless, constant, continual Antonym temporary, brief, occasional Sentence The old clock seemed to make a perpetual ticking sound. Root Latin perpetuus, continuous.	(v) To stir up or encourage trouble or unrest. Synonym incite, provoke, stir Antonym calm, suppress, discourage Sentence The speech was accused of fomenting anger. Root Latin fovere, warm; fomentum, warm compress.

Portent

Protracted

Raucous

Repudiate

Opulent

Ornate

Wreak

Anomaly

Assimilate

Acquiesce

(adj) Lasting longer than expected. Synonymextended, prolonged, drawn-out Antonymbrief, short, quick SentenceThe lawsuit became a protracted battle over ownership. RootLatin pro-, forth + trahere, draw.	(n) A sign or warning that something important may happen. Synonymomen, sign, warning Antonymassurance, comfort, normality SentenceThe sudden silence felt like a portent of trouble. RootLatin portendere, foretell.
(v) To reject or refuse to accept. Synonymreject, disown, renounce Antonymaccept, affirm, endorse SentenceThe senator repudiated the false statement. RootLatin repudiare, reject or divorce.	(adj) Loud, rough, and disorderly. Synonymloud, rowdy, harsh Antonymquiet, calm, subdued SentenceRaucous laughter filled the crowded room. RootLatin raucus, hoarse.
(adj) Highly decorated or elaborate. Synonymdecorated, elaborate, embellished Antonymplain, simple, austere SentenceThe temple had ornate carvings above every doorway. RootLatin ornare, adorn.	(adj) Rich, luxurious, or lavish. Synonymluxurious, lavish, sumptuous Antonymplain, poor, austere SentenceThe hotel lobby was opulent, with marble floors and chandeliers. RootLatin opulentus, wealthy.
(n) Something that differs from what is normal or expected. Synonymirregularity, oddity, exception Antonymnorm, regularity, standard SentenceThe strange reading was an anomaly in the data. RootGreek anomalía, irregularity.	(v) To cause great damage or harm. Synonyminflict, cause, unleash Antonymrepair, prevent, protect SentenceThe storm could wreak havoc along the coast. RootOld English wrecan, drive or avenge.
(v) To accept something reluctantly but without protest. Synonymconsent, yield, comply Antonymresist, refuse, protest SentenceShe chose to acquiesce rather than prolong the argument. RootLatin ad-, to + quiescere, rest.	(v) To absorb, integrate, or become similar to a group. Synonymabsorb, integrate, incorporate Antonymseparate, reject, exclude SentenceNew employees need time to assimilate into the company. RootLatin ad-, to + similis, like.

Apprehension

Ostentatious

Latent

Morass

Onerous

Paucity

Reproach

Tribulation

Abrasive

Anarchy

(adj) Showy in a way meant to impress others. Synonymshowy, flashy, pretentious Antonymmodest, plain, understated SentenceThe party featured ostentatious displays of wealth. RootLatin ostentare, display.	(n) Anxiety about the future; also understanding or capture. Synonymanxiety, fear, unease Antonymconfidence, calm, assurance SentenceHe felt apprehension before the final interview. RootLatin apprehendere, seize or grasp.
(n) A complicated, confusing, or muddy situation. Synonymquagmire, mess, tangle Antonymclarity, order, solution SentenceThe simple dispute became a legal morass. RootDutch moeras, marsh.	(adj) Existing but not yet active or visible. Synonymhidden, dormant, undeveloped Antonymactive, visible, obvious SentenceThe illness can remain latent for years. RootLatin latere, lie hidden.
(n) A small or insufficient amount. Synonymscarcity, shortage, lack Antonymabundance, plenty, surplus SentenceThe report suffered from a paucity of reliable evidence. RootLatin paucus, few.	(adj) Burdensome, difficult, or requiring much effort. Synonymburdensome, taxing, arduous Antonymeasy, light, effortless SentenceThe new reporting rules were onerous for small firms. RootLatin onus, burden.
(n) Great trouble, suffering, or distress. Synonymhardship, suffering, ordeal Antonymcomfort, ease, joy SentenceThe family survived many tribulations during the war. RootLatin tribulum, threshing board.	(v) To express disapproval or disappointment. Synonymrebuke, criticize, scold Antonympraise, approve, commend SentenceShe reproached him for breaking his promise. RootOld French reprochier, blame or bring back.
(n) A state of disorder caused by lack of authority. Synonymchaos, disorder, lawlessness Antonymorder, government, control SentenceAfter the power failed, the station fell into anarchy. RootGreek an-, without + arkhos, ruler.	(adj) Harsh, rough, or irritating in manner or texture. Synonymharsh, rough, irritating Antonymgentle, smooth, kind SentenceHis abrasive tone made collaboration difficult. RootLatin abradere, scrape away.

Benign

Cynic

Myriad

Incontrovertible

Nadir

Paragon

Ramify

Scrutiny

Resilient

Luster

Mutiny

Disparate

Sagacity

Pallid

Obstinate

Quotidian

Propensity

Rectify

Rapport

Inaugurate

(adj) Essentially different or not comparable. Synonymdifferent, distinct, unrelated Antonymsimilar, alike, comparable SentenceThe study combined data from disparate sources. RootLatin disparatus, separated.	(n) A rebellion against authority, especially on a ship. Synonymrebellion, revolt, uprising Antonymobedience, loyalty, submission SentenceThe captain feared a mutiny after weeks at sea. RootOld French mutiner, revolt.
(adj) Pale, weak, or lacking intensity. Synonympale, wan, colorless Antonymrosy, vivid, flushed SentenceHe looked pallid after the long illness. RootLatin pallidus, pale.	(n) Wisdom and good judgment. Synonymwisdom, insight, prudence Antonymfoolishness, stupidity, folly SentenceHer sagacity helped the family avoid a bad investment. RootLatin sagax, wise or keen-scented.
(adj) Ordinary or occurring every day. Synonymeveryday, ordinary, common Antonymrare, unusual, extraordinary SentenceThe novel finds beauty in quotidian routines. RootLatin quotidianus, daily.	(adj) Stubbornly refusing to change. Synonymstubborn, inflexible, headstrong Antonymflexible, compliant, yielding SentenceThe obstinate driver ignored every warning sign. RootLatin obstinare, persist.
(v) To correct or make right. Synonymcorrect, fix, remedy Antonymdamage, worsen, corrupt SentenceThe company moved quickly to rectify the billing error. RootLatin rectus, right + facere, make.	(n) A natural tendency or inclination. Synonyminclination, tendency, leaning Antonymaversion, reluctance, disinclination SentenceHe has a propensity to ask difficult questions. RootLatin propensus, inclined.
(v) To begin formally or introduce into office. Synonymbegin, launch, initiate Antonymend, close, terminate SentenceThe mayor will inaugurate the new park tomorrow. RootLatin augur, omen reader.	(n) A friendly, trusting relationship. Synonymconnection, harmony, affinity Antonymtension, conflict, estrangement SentenceThe tutor built rapport with the students quickly. RootFrench rapporter, bring back; relation.

Loquacious

Fledgling

Incessant

Recapitulate

Fastidious

Pervasive

Reimburse

Pinnacle

Placate

Perennial

(n) A beginner or newly developed person or organization. Synonym novice, beginner, newcomer Antonym veteran, expert, professional Sentence The fledgling company needed experienced advisers. Root Old English fleogan, fly + -ling.	(adj) Very talkative. Synonym talkative, chatty, verbose Antonym quiet, taciturn, silent Sentence The loquacious host kept the conversation moving. Root Latin loqui, speak.
(v) To summarize or repeat the main points. Synonym summarize, restate, review Antonym expand, omit, ignore Sentence The professor recapitulated the lesson before the exam. Root Latin re-, again + capitulum, heading.	(adj) Continuing without interruption. Synonym constant, unending, continual Antonym intermittent, occasional, brief Sentence The incessant rain flooded the sidewalks. Root Latin in-, not + cessare, stop.
(adj) Spreading widely throughout an area or group. Synonym widespread, prevalent, extensive Antonym limited, rare, localized Sentence A pervasive smell of smoke filled the hall. Root Latin per-, through + vadere, go.	(adj) Very attentive to detail and hard to please. Synonym meticulous, exacting, fussy Antonym careless, sloppy, indifferent Sentence The fastidious editor checked every comma. Root Latin fastidium, disgust or disdain.
(n) The highest point or level. Synonym peak, summit, apex Antonym bottom, base, nadir Sentence Winning the prize was the pinnacle of her career. Root Latin pinnaculum, small peak.	(v) To pay back money spent or lost. Synonym repay, refund, compensate Antonym charge, withhold, take Sentence The company will reimburse travel expenses. Root re-, back + bourse, purse or money bag.
(adj) Lasting for a long time or recurring often. Synonym enduring, recurring, persistent Antonym temporary, brief, short-lived Sentence Traffic is a perennial problem near the bridge. Root Latin per, through + annus, year.	(v) To calm someone who is angry. Synonym appease, pacify, mollify Antonym provoke, anger, inflame Sentence The apology helped placate the upset client. Root Latin placare, calm.

Exigent

Malady

Accede

Punctilious

Entail

Quandary

Proclivity

Pastoral

Turbulent

Stymie

(n) An illness or serious problem. Synonym illness, ailment, disease Antonym health, wellness, cure Sentence The doctor searched for the cause of the malady. Root Old French maladie, illness.	(adj) Urgent or requiring immediate attention. Synonym urgent, pressing, critical Antonym minor, optional, trivial Sentence The hospital focused on the most exigent cases first. Root Latin exigere, demand or drive out.
(adj) Strictly attentive to rules or details. Synonym meticulous, exact, scrupulous Antonym careless, lax, negligent Sentence The clerk was punctilious about every form. Root Latin punctum, point.	(v) To agree to a request or assume office. Synonym agree, consent, comply Antonym refuse, reject, dissent Sentence The board finally acceded to the workers' demands. Root Latin ad-, to + cedere, go or yield.
(n) A state of uncertainty about what to do. Synonym dilemma, predicament, uncertainty Antonym certainty, solution, decision Sentence The two good offers left her in a quandary. Root Origin uncertain; English state of doubt.	(v) To involve or require as a necessary result. Synonym involve, require, necessitate Antonym exclude, prevent, avoid Sentence The promotion will entail more travel. Root Old French taillier, cut or limit.
(adj) Related to country life, shepherds, or rural simplicity. Synonym rural, rustic, bucolic Antonym urban, industrial, metropolitan Sentence The painting shows a quiet pastoral scene. Root Latin pastor, shepherd.	(n) A natural tendency to do something. Synonym inclination, tendency, propensity Antonym aversion, disinclination, reluctance Sentence He has a proclivity for taking bold risks. Root Latin pro-, forward + clivus, slope.
(v) To block or hinder progress. Synonym block, hinder, impede Antonym help, advance, facilitate Sentence A missing permit could stymie the project. Root Scottish golf term for a blocking ball.	(adj) Disorderly, unstable, or violently moving. Synonym stormy, chaotic, unsettled Antonym calm, stable, peaceful Sentence The plane shook in turbulent air. Root Latin turba, crowd or disorder.

Discern

Exhilarated

Barter

Punitive

Recompense

Obfuscate

Paradigm

Philanthropic

Obtain

Servile

(adj) Very happy, excited, and energized. Synonym elated, thrilled, energized Antonym depressed, bored, dejected Sentence The runners felt exhilarated after finishing the race. Root Latin exhilarare, make cheerful.	(v) To perceive, recognize, or distinguish. Synonym perceive, detect, distinguish Antonym miss, overlook, confuse Sentence She could discern a pattern in the noisy data. Root Latin dis-, apart + cernere, separate.
(adj) Intended as punishment. Synonym penal, disciplinary, retaliatory Antonym forgiving, lenient, merciful Sentence The judge rejected the punitive fee as excessive. Root Latin punire, punish.	(v) To trade goods or services without money. Synonym trade, exchange, swap Antonym buy, sell, purchase Sentence The farmers bartered eggs for fresh bread. Root Old French barater, exchange or haggle.
(v) To make something unclear or confusing. Synonym confuse, obscure, cloud Antonym clarify, explain, illuminate Sentence The legal language obfuscated a simple rule. Root Latin ob-, over + fuscare, darken.	(v) To repay or compensate for loss or effort. Synonym compensate, repay, reward Antonym penalize, deprive, withhold Sentence The company recompensed him for the damaged equipment. Root Latin re-, back + compensare, weigh together.
(adj) Charitable or intended to help others. Synonym charitable, benevolent, generous Antonym selfish, greedy, miserly Sentence The foundation funds philanthropic projects in education. Root Greek philos, loving + anthropos, human.	(n) A model, pattern, or typical example. Synonym model, pattern, framework Antonym anomaly, exception, irregularity Sentence The discovery changed the scientific paradigm. Root Greek paradeigma, pattern or example.
(adj) Overly submissive or eager to obey. Synonym submissive, obsequious, fawning Antonym independent, assertive, proud Sentence His servile flattery made the manager uncomfortable. Root Latin servus, slave.	(v) To get or acquire. Synonym get, acquire, secure Antonym lose, forfeit, surrender Sentence You must obtain a permit before building. Root Latin ob-, toward + tenere, hold.

Reverberate

Coy

Dire

Zenith

Tenacious

Scintillating

Salient

Supercilious

Tenuous

Truncate

(adj) Pretending to be shy or unwilling to reveal information. Synonymshy, evasive, demure Antonymfrank, direct, open SentenceShe gave a coy smile and refused to answer. RootOld French coi, quiet or still.	(v) To echo repeatedly or have a continuing effect. Synonymecho, resound, resonate Antonymmuffle, silence, dampen SentenceThe news reverberated through the community. RootLatin re-, back + verberare, beat.
(n) the highest point of something Synonymheight, high point, peak Antonymbottom, base, nadir SentenceHer career reached its zenith after the award. RootArabic samt, path or direction, source of zenith.	(adj) Extremely serious, urgent, or terrible. Synonymterrible, urgent, grave Antonymminor, hopeful, harmless SentenceThe drought created a dire need for water. RootLatin dirus, fearful or dreadful.
(adj) brilliant; lively; stimulating; witty Synonymsparkling, shining, bright Antonymdull, boring, matte SentenceThe guest gave a scintillating speech that made the room laugh. RootLatin scintilla, spark.	(adj) aggressively persistent at something Synonymfirm, tight, strong Antonymloose, weak, yielding SentenceThe tenacious lawyer kept asking questions until the truth emerged. RootLatin tenax/tenere, holding fast.
(adj) aloof and superior Synonymarrogant, haughty, snobbish Antonymhumble, modest, respectful SentenceHis supercilious tone made the new students uncomfortable. RootLatin supercilium, eyebrow; linked to raised-eyebrow pride.	(adj) prominent; of notable significance Synonymimportant, major, principal Antonyminconspicuous, insignificant, unimportant SentenceThe report highlighted the salient points before the meeting. RootLatin salire, to leap or jump.
(v) to shorten, often by cutting off Synonymcut, pare, reduce Antonymlengthen, extend, expand SentenceThe editor had to truncate the article to fit the page. RootLatin truncare, to cut off or maim.	(adj) flimsy; weak; of little substance Synonymfragile, weak, flimsy Antonymstrong, thick, substantial SentenceThe argument was tenuous because it relied on guesses. RootLatin tenuis, thin or slender.

Serendipity

Venerable

(adj) respectable because of age or achievements Synonym respected, revered, honored Antonym dishonorable, disreputable, irreverent Sentence The venerable professor still advised young scientists. Root Latin venerari, to worship or revere.	(n) luck; finding good things you were not even looking for Synonym good luck, chance, coincidence Antonym mishap, bad luck, misfortune Sentence By serendipity, we found the perfect cafe while lost. Root Coined from Serendip, old name for Sri Lanka.